REPORT

—OF—

Superintending School Committee

—OF THE—

TOWN OF EAST KINGSTON,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 1, 1882.

REPORT OF THE Superintending School Committee.

For the year ending March 1, 1882.

The close of another year brings with it the duty of noting the progress and condition of the schools of the town in an annual report.

It is the requirement of law that the School Committee shall present to the town, at its annual meeting, a report stating the number of weeks the public schools have been kept in summer and winter, and what portion by male and what by female teachers; the whole number of scholars that have attended each school and the number attending to each study; and the whole number of scholars of the town, and less than five years of age who have attended the district schools in the town not less than two weeks during the year; the number of children of each sex reported by the Selectmen, and the number of children of each sex between the ages of five and fifteen that have not attended school; and the number of persons in the town between the ages of fourteen and twenty-one years who cannot read and write, with such suggestions relative to the schools as he may think useful.

SCHOOL MONEY.

|--------------------------------------|----------|
| Raised by tax, | $497 00 |
| Interest of J. Morrill school fund, | 120 00 |
| Literary fund, | 80 81 |
| Railroad and Savings Bank tax, | 57 33 |
| Unexpended last year, | 13 86 |
| <hr/> | |
| Total amount for support of schools, | $769 00 |

The whole number of children in town, between the ages of 5 and 15 as returned by the Selectmen, is 102; 51 males and 51 females. I know of no person in town between the ages of 14 and 21 who cannot read or write.

NORTH SCHOOL—SUMMER TERM.

MISS LIZZIE HARDY, of Hampton Falls, Teacher.

Miss Hardy had many good qualifications for the post assigned her, yet in this school she fell short of complete success. She failed in some measure to command the respect of those whose duty it was to obey. Order, a requisite of prime importance, was the point in which she failed.

FALL AND WINTER TERM.

MISS MARY CROSS, of Methuen, Mass., Teacher.

A change of teachers in this instance was a change for the better. The school at the beginning of the term was found to be in a very sad condition so far as discipline and subordination were concerned. A portion of the scholars felt disposed to have their own way, regardless of the requirements of the teacher, and it became necessary to employ other means than moral suasion to enforce discipline and obedience to the rules of the school. The firmness and good judgment of the teacher overcame all difficulties of this kind and the school became obedient, industrious, and highly prosperous. In the words of another the teacher "brought order out of chaos, obedience out of lawlessness, quiet out of confusion, and study out of play," and is entitled to much credit for the resolute and commendable course which she pursued. Should the time ever come when teachers are forbidden to use the rod I suggest that leave be still left them to take offenders "into the entry," and as much liberty also granted as will permit an application of the traditional couplet,

"When taken to be well shaken."

The improvement has been good and the school such as to merit my entire approval. This is the smallest school in town, and by far too small to occupy the whole time of a teacher. Economy would seem to require some different arrangement in regard to this school. I find that the year's schooling costs about twenty-one dollars per scholar.

CORNER SCHOOL.

MISS ABBIE A. PEASE of South Newmarket, Teacher both summer and winter.

Miss Pease had taught this school before and the confidence between teacher and pupils, and between teacher and parents, was the fruit of a previous acquaintance. This school, under the care of so efficient a teacher as Miss Pease, has been very successful in its improvements, in its good order and deportment, in its advancement in all that pertains to Common School excellence, as well as literature. And I take pleasure in bearing my unqualified testimony to the faithfulness of its teacher, as well as her rare qualifications for so important a duty.

Easy, confiding and independent, lady-like and maternal in her duty, she gave to your Committee satisfactory proofs of her ability to govern and to teach.. The whole aspect of the school bore the most decisive testimony to the fidelity, prudence and tact of the teacher. In school her word is law ; "she says what she means and means what she says." Her school was well taught and well governed. She is a model teacher.

FALLS SCHOOL.

MISS ISABELLA J. CURRIER, Teacher summer and winter.

Miss Currier is a young lady of pre-eminent literary qualifications and your Committee had full confidence in her capacity to govern, in her ability to teach, and in her fidelity and devotion to the greatest good of those committed to her charge. The school is small and composed mostly of small scholars, but none the less important on that account, and I prize the labors of the teacher who can readily adapt herself to the wants and capacities of young scholars, quite as highly as any. Miss Currier entered upon the discharge of her duties with much energy and faithfulness. Good order prevailed and the school invariably appeared industrious. The Committee is satisfied that she done her duty, and that the school made good progress under her care.

POUND SCHOOL.

MISS M. FANNIE DAVIS, of Stoneham, Mass., Teacher Summer and Winter.

This school has been under the charge of the same teacher during the entire year. She has labored with energy and perseverance to advance and improve all those who have been entrusted to her care, and she has not been disappointed by any means in her efforts.

She has won the confidence and love of all her pupils and they have always given cheerful and prompt obedience to all her requirements.

The teacher quickly made herself acquainted with the capacity of her pupils, and required of them the performance of duties commensurate with it.

The classes were prompt in taking their places, cheerful and ready in answering such questions as were proposed, and manifested a lively interest in their studies.

As might be expected under such circumstances good improvement was made.

ATTENDANCE.

The whole number of scholars who have attended school between 5 and 15 years of age was 100. The number over 15 years of age was 6. The number less than 5 years of age was 2.

There were quite a number of scholars who were not absent during the year, and I am pleased to place their names on the ROLL OF HONOR.

Etta M. Giles, Annah Currier, Thomas P. Currier, Harry W. Gray, Nellie E. Sanborn, Sarah L. Currier,* Stephen G. Currier, George F. Clough.

NOT ABSENT FOR ONE TERM.

Sarah J. Webster, Annie E. B. Webster, George H. Marsh, Jasper F. Blake, Abbie I. Nelson, Carrie W. Rowell, Irvin H. Rowell, Charles Philbrick, George H. Smith, Frank B. Noyes, Annie Giles, Mary E. Tilton, Wallace S. Tilton, Fritz I. Greenly, Eva H. Merrill, Hattie F. Rowell, Albert L. Rowell, J. Fred Buswell, John H. Currier, Clarence Cooper.

*Absent one day on account of sickness.

Annah Currier, Sarah L. Currier and Thomas P. Currier have not been absent or tardy for two years and I regard them as worthy of especial mention.

DISCIPLINE.

To this department I give the largest latitude as including not only deportment in the school-room, but wherever the scholar may be found.

It is no uncommon thing to find scholars quiet and orderly in school, but rude and unmanly, if not impudent, when out of school. Such discipline so far as it extended, was very good, but it was faulty, in that it stopped short of its perfect work.

The teacher's work is not done when good order is established in the school-room, but the training should include good behavior, and a proper respect for seniors on all occasions. To this end I invoke the special attention of teachers.

That I am not going beyond my province in this suggestion, let me remind my fellow-citizens that the Statute prescribes "good behavior" as an object of care to school committees. Boys will be boys we know, and little is gained by being perpetually on the watch for boyish pranks; but there is a distinction between sport and mischief; and when citizens complain of annoyances, it is but fair that we see that such things are not done by those under the pupilage of the town. In conclusion we hope that the success that has attended our schools the past year will incite us all to renewed action. May we all work faithfully and unitedly to promote the highest interest of the rising generation, for we believe the future stability and prosperity of our free institutions and government will depend very much upon the general knowledge and character of our children, who are now pupils in our schools.

JOHN P. FRENCH,

Superintending School Committee.
